Van Gogh: Starry Night. FILL IN THE GAPS

cut across, brushstrokes, which dominates, the addition of, is crossed by, blues and yellows, swirling, of the right part, flame-like, masterpiece, on the left

This (1) represents a small valley immersed in the night, as Van Gogh saw it from the east-facing window of his asylum room at Saint-Rémy-de-Provence, with (2) an imaginary village. In the foreground, (3), we see a large, (4) cypress tree, and the bell tower (5) the village in the centre. In the background the curving, (6) lines of hills and mountains (7) the canvas diagonally and the clouds seem to threaten rain, while the moon occupies most (8) of the painting. The sky (9) stars which seem aggressive fireballs modelled on rotating waves. The brilliantly contrasting (10) are rendered with thickly layered (11).
