

Pre-reading activity: Internet Search - Collective sharing and elaboration

Every group copy and paste the result of the homework activity.

A group reads his paragraph alternating the reader with every sentence; other students listen, choose words and write a “List of Keywords” cooperatively.

The list of keywords is developed, simplified and updated while the activity takes place, until all the groups have read their answers.

Not only Wikipedia: What is Golden Rice and why was it developed? Compare at least two different sources to answer the question without using Wikipedia as a reference (specify your sources in brackets).

Write a number of your choice between 111 and 999 at the beginning of the answer, to identify your group

Example: 134: Golden rice...
