

NAME _____

CLASS _____

DATE _____

FILL IN THE GAPS WITH THE WORDS BELOW

human body; standardized; points; face; eyes; arms; shoulders ; legs canons of proportions; closed fist; fixed number

IDEAL PROPORTIONS AND POINT OF VIEW

To represent the _____ the painter followed a _____ set of rules and different _____ of view.

Some parts were depicted in profile view (_____, _____, _____), while others in front view (_____, _____). The final result is that of stylized, twodimensional figures, heavily outlined.

GRID SYSTEM

A grid was laid out as a guide to reproduce ideal _____ of the human body, which was usually 18 squares high.

A square corresponded to the width of a _____ and each part of the body was measured in a _____ of squares.

